

supply chain

During our 20-year history, we have developed an international supply chain and exclusive partnerships with some of the world's leading lamination providers. Our strategic partnerships allow us to provide brands with a versatile selection of laminates, development flexibility and speed to market. With partners strategically located around the globe, we help brands find the right product in the right place.

why

brand – Recognized globally as an all-weather technology leader, our platform includes an array of tools to illustrate the technology and create value for your brand.

commitment – Backed by a committed ownership group with global textile experience, we are focused on innovation and growth.

flexibility – Considered one of the most flexible technology providers in the industry, our program is backed by an exclusive network of global supply chain partners that allows us to introduce innovative material solutions and partner with brands on exclusive developments.

quality – eVent was created to meet the industry's highest performance standards and help brands develop products that provide years of all-weather protection. Our products are rigorously tested to withstand the toughest conditions.

service – Backed by a leadership team with more than 150 years of collective industry experience, we partner with brands throughout the development process by providing support and category expertise.

sustainability – From the beginning, eVent has engineered technology that is built to last. Designed to keep users dry and comfortable across a wide range of conditions and outdoor activities, our advanced fabric technologies are sustainably engineered to meet the highest performance specifications.
